HSMC seeks university status

Hang Seng Management College (HSMC) plans to apply for the status of private university in 2015, said Acting President Gilbert Fong Chee-fun at a media gathering on Friday. He said the college plans to open five new bachelor's degree programs, including management science, information management and financial analysis, in 2014. The programs will each have 60-70 places. HSMC, famed for its preparatory courses for secondary school graduates, is setting up a president vetting committee in two months for the global recruitment of a new president, he added.
