HEAD'S MESSAGE

Welcome to BA in English at HSUHK!

BA-ENG is a fully accredited 4-year degree programme which provides professional training in the fields of English language and literature. Unlike some programmes in Hong Kong which focus on workplace English, our programme emphasises the study of linguistics and literature. The two subjects are different but interrelated.

In linguistics, students study languages from a scientific perspective. They explore critical issues such as the differences between spoken and written languages, the brain's language acquisition process, and the evolution of English as a global language. Literature complements these topics by examining a wide range of artistic expressions in dramas, novels, poems and films. It involves intensive reading and writing, which refines one's sensitivity to feelings and the ability to express them effectively in written forms.

The programme is taught by a team of enthusiastic, professional and supportive teachers who come from diverse cultural and academic backgrounds. Adopting a student-centred teaching philosophy, teachers provide timely feedback to students' assignments, encourage interactions in class and take genuine interest in students' wellbeing. They also conduct impactful research in the areas of language and literature. Students can work with them on specific research topics by enrolling the capstone project in their final year. The projects are wonderful syntheses of what students have learnt during their four years of study.

Our graduates have attained substantial positions in various industries. Many of them have become professional teachers in both primary and secondary schools. Others have become civil servants, event organisers and marketing managers. Working aside, many have successfully completed their postgraduate studies at prestigious local and international universities.

I am honoured to be the Director of the programme and proud to see our students excelling in different fields. To me, BA-ENG represents a team of energetic, capable and forward-looking teachers and students. No matter who you are, I welcome you to learn more about the programme by reading this pamphlet or visiting our department's website. Enjoy!
