Welcome to HSUHK Translation

If you're good with Chinese and English, interested in language, and keen on starting something new in your career, then the Master of Arts in Translation (Business and Legal) Programme is for you.

The programme will teach you the fundamentals of the legal systems in the Greater China area, including those in Hong Kong, Taiwan and the Mainland. You will also study business and legal Chinese and English, as well as their terminology, usage, style and syntax to help you with writing and translating.

If you believe that knowledge is power, and that life-long learning is the key to success in life, then the programme is an apposite choice, one that is really worthy of your consideration.

Translation and Interpretation Laboratory

Programme Objectives

The programme aims to train students to master the theories and skills in writing, translating and interpreting in business and legal contexts, and to provide students with the essential knowledge of the translation industry in major Chinese communities. Graduates will be able to meet future challenges in the fast-growing language services industry with a particular focus on business and legal translation.

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this programme, students should be able to:

- analyse complex business and legal texts;
- apply linguistic and conceptual skills to formulate solutions to complex business and legal translation tasks;
- apply various information technology skills to enhance translation efficiency;
- reflect critically on the conceptual issues and practice relating to business and legal translation;
- conduct research on business and legal translation issues; and
- communicate effectively in English and Chinese in business and legal environments and for research and study purposes.

Entrance Requirements

Applicants are required to fulfil the following entrance requirements for admission:

- A Bachelor's degree from a recognised university or equivalent; and
- Documentary evidence demonstrating English proficiency (Pass in AS/AL Use of English; Level 4 or above in HKDSE English Language; TOEFL ≥ 550 (paper-based), ≥ 213 (computer-based), ≥ 79 (internet-based); IELTS ≥ 6.5 ; CET 6 ≥ 430 ; TEM-4 ≥ 70 ; or equivalent)

Applicants may be required to take an entry test and/or interview. Preference will be given to applicants with a translation/business/law background.

Medium of Instruction

English is the primary medium of instruction, which is supplemented by Chinese (Cantonese and/or Putonghua) in all areas of the curriculum. Exceptions are Chinese language modules, which are taught in Chinese (Cantonese and/or Putonghua).

Normal Study Period

1 year (full-time) / 2 years (part-time)

Class Schedule

Classes are normally held on weekday evenings and/or Saturday afternoons. Evening classes and Saturday classes normally start at 7:00 pm and 2:00 pm respectively. Class schedule is subject to change and the final decision rests with the University.
