Jardine Aviation Services Group and School of Decision Sciences of
The Hang Seng University of Hong Kong join forces to explore opportunities to nurture the next generation of talent for aviation industry

On 17 October 2023, the Jardine Aviation Services Group (JASG) and the School of Decision Sciences at the Hang Seng University of Hong Kong (HSUHK) held a signing ceremony for a memorandum of understanding. The two parties will collaborate to cultivate the next generation of talent in the aviation industry and promote industry development through various projects and programmes.

Since 1946, JASG has been dedicated to providing comprehensive services to customers at the Hong Kong International Airport, becoming a market leader in aviation ground services in Hong Kong. Ms Irene Tang, Head of Human Resources at JASG, expressed great anticipation for this collaboration and hopes to fully leverage the strengths of both parties to provide students with more practical opportunities. Professor Chan Wai Sum, Dean of the School of Decision Sciences at HSUHK, also hopes that students can apply their knowledge, enhance practical skills, understand the latest trends and technologies in the aviation industry, and improve their professional competence and competitiveness through various forms of guidance and training, such as project studies, internships, and mentorship programs.

In addition to the aforementioned projects, JASG will also offer scholarship scheme from the academic year 2023 to 2026 to recognize and reward outstanding students from the School of Decision Sciences, encouraging them to strive for excellence, pursue progress, and surpass themselves.

The memorandum of understanding was jointly signed by Ms Irene Tang, Head of Human Resources at JASG, and Professor Chan Wai Sum, Dean of the School of Decision Sciences at HSUHK.

About School of Decision Sciences

The Hang Seng University of Hong Kong, School of Decision Sciences – the first of its kind in the region – is guided by common goals: to strive for quality education, practical training, and innovative research in the areas of data science, information management, and supply chain management.

The digital decade and related technologies have enhanced the efficiency of businesses to a large extent. Nowadays businesses are relying on decision sciences to make key strategic decisions across all facets of business. Both undergraduate and postgraduate programmes offered by our school have been designed for students to capture growth and opportunities in the “new normal” digital era.

Our blend of coursework, experiential learning and supportive teachers and staff creates the perfect environment for students to succeed. From day one through graduation, our students experience real-world business issues in small-class teaching, case studies, group projects, practicums and internships.
