

Welcome Remarks at the HSUHK Long Service Award and Teaching Dedication Recognition Presentation Ceremony

10 February 2026

Auditorium, Lee Quo Wei Academic Building, Yuen Campus, HSUHK

Dear colleagues,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you all to the University's Long Service Award and Teaching Dedication Recognition Ceremony. Today, we gather as a University community to recognize the dedication, commitment, and contribution of our colleagues, whose efforts form an important part of the University's development and achievement.

This Ceremony allows us to reflect on how far HSUHK has come and, more importantly, to acknowledge the people who have contributed to the University's growth along the way. Occasions like today allow us to pause from our daily work and express our appreciation to colleagues who have served the University with commitment over many years, as well as to those Faculty Members whose teaching professionalism and dedication continue to support our University's mission.

On behalf of the Hang Seng University, I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to the 47 awardees for the Long Service Award, and 15 awardees for the 10-year Teaching Dedication Recognition. Each of you has helped shape HSUHK into the institution that we're so proud of today. I hope today's Ceremony serves as a small token of our gratitude for your committed service. We take pride in all you've achieved and contributed.

To the wider HSUHK community, let us continue to support one another and work together with a shared sense of purpose, as we carry forward the values that define our University.

Once again, congratulations to all our awardees, and I wish you all joyful afternoon.

Thank you.
